Dear Parents/Carers,

After a fun day meeting our new classes, we thought it would be useful to have a list of possible activities or research areas to help your child to get off to a flying start next academic year.

We are bringing in the new Maths National Curriculum. There is strong emphasis on manipulating numbers and it will be beneficial to all children to learn as many of their times tables off by heart as they can. A great way to do this is by playing memory games, flashcards and filling in x table squares. If you would like some extra materials to help with this, Mrs Wills will be running a lunchtime club in her classroom for the children, on Tuesday 15th & Wednesday 16th July 2014.

Ready for our Science topic, your child could research 3 animals. They need to choose an omnivore, herbivore and carnivore. They could use a combination of sketches, pictures and writing to present what they have found out about each animal.

Any work your child has spent time on over the holidays will be collected in and their efforts rewarded.

We look forward to seeing you in September.

Yours sincerely,

Year 4 Staff.
