

Through Time and Place

We sprung into the new year with an around the world extravaganza. Reculver was transformed into the seven continents of the world thanks to the hard work and enthusiasm from the staff and the children.

On Thursday the children immersed themselves into the culture and Geography of their designated country.

They found out about a famous person linked to their country and prepared their classroom for tourists and travellers exploring on the following day.

The next day the children arrived in their exploration outfits and, along with their passports, began to travel around the World. Upon their travels they collected flag stickers from each destination and had fun learning about each continent in a little more detail. A special mention for the SEN team who brought Antarctica to the Ark, which was voted by the children as their favourite destination. There was real snow, a camping area; a full sensory experience.

Thank you for the amazing outfits and accessories the children came wearing on Friday. It was lovely to see them so excited about the world around them.
