Annual Reports and Home Learning – Term 5

Dear Parents/Carers,

We would like to take this opportunity thank you for your continued support during these unprecedented times and send our best wishes to all of our Reculver family. We hope you are keeping safe and well.

This week, you will be receiving, via the post, your child's annual school report.

This year, in these circumstances, we have made the decision that that by providing reports now, with Home Learning suggestions, this will help to support you with the Home Learning activities and priorities for your child in the coming weeks, or possibly months, that they are out of school, so that the children can work on the key areas that will support them to achieve well as soon as they are back in school.

Today the teachers have uploaded resources to support the children's Home Learning for Term 5. These can be found via the following link:

Each year group has uploaded a variety of lessons and resources to support the children's learning at home. These include Maths, English, Reading, Spelling, Topic, Science, Art and RE. The resources are organised week by week and will be updated regularly. The expectation is that the children access the resources throughout the week- not that they complete them all in one day.

In addition to this the Government have launched <https://www.thenational.academy/online-classroom/subjects>

This website offers free access to a range of online lessons, quizzes and worksheets. Oak National Academy was built at speed; at present the resources are for pupils who usually access their schools' curriculum in mainstream education, from reception through to year 10, without significant support or adaptation. They are currently working on providing support for teachers working with pupils with additional needs, and teachers based in specialist settings. Next week they hope to launch materials for pupils not able to access all aspects of their current offer.

The BBC have also, from today, launched Bitesize lessons (3 per day) for each year group. This is both for online use and via the red button on your TV. The homeschooling lessons have been created with teachers and other educational experts and feature a mix of videos, animations, practice activities, quizzes and games.

At Reculver, we have tried to provide activities that need limited internet access. If you require a printed copy of the pack please email or phone the office in advance so we can prepare the packs for you to collect. If families are shielding or self-isolating and unable to collect the pack we will deliver them to you.

The aim of our resources is to help support you and your children whilst they are not in school.

It's important to look after our mental health during this time especially as the measures in place to keep us safe may limit our usual actions to respond to stress. Fear for our loved ones, social distancing and self-isolation bring unprecedented challenges to our wellbeing, and our children and young people will be feeling this too as they learn to adapt to the new measures in place. We hope that some of the resources below will be useful in conversations about COVID-19 and the measures in place, as well as in supporting children and young people understand their emotions during this time.

We fully appreciate the challenges that Home Learning presents and want to provide as much support as we can. Our teachers and staff are contactable on Monday to Friday via Class Dojo and email (office@reculver.kent.sch.uk) should you have any questions or concerns. If you have any urgent concerns, worries or safeguarding concerns, please contact me on headteacher@reculver.kent.sch.uk

Thank you for everything that you are doing.
